

Burns Supper on Saturday 30th January 2010

The President will preside over the proceedings with the support of Ian Fisher, Esq.

The cost this year will be £17.50 per person and places can be booked either by completing the booking sheet located in the Lounge or e-mail to jimbibbyanorak@aol.com

Please be aware once you have booked a place the club will require payment on the night, this will also apply if you do not attend and not sold your place to another member.

Member's family and friends are warmly invited to attend and to experience this Scottish tradition.

Gentlemen will, of course, wear the kilt if they are fortunate enough to own one and ladies will wear a sash. Failing that, the dress code for the evening will be lounge suits / smart casual with every body being asked to wear some item of tartan.

There will be a good selection of house wines, cask conditioned beer and fine malt whisky.

There will be a raffle held during the evening for a bottle of fine malt whisky.

For the reassurance of those who may have heard alarming stories as to the ingredients of haggis, these days it is made from lamb, beef, oatmeal, onion, and a blend of seasoning and spices all cooked together in a natural casing. (But we can also cater for vegetarians.)

There is a proper format for a Burns Night Supper, which is always followed until the evening descends into general conviviality. We shall do the same.
